Detailed Action

1. This is the first action, application filed on 08/15/2000.
2. Independent Claim 1 and dependent claim 2 are pending in the case.
3. Examiner have been received the sited IDS information. However, examiner have not received the form "1449".
4. The present title of the application is "Portable wireless communication apparatus".

Note: In view of the 112 rejection alone, the following rejection is based on the examiner intention, the claimed limitation as best understood.

NONE FINAL ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear the term "when holding a call while speaking to the party on the other end". Does the party has a calling-waiting feature? If call is on hold, line one can speak to the other party.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) Patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1, and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cronin U. S. Patent Number 6216016, in view of Segal et al. U. S. Patent 6167251.
9. Regarding claims 1 and 2, Cronin discloses a portable wireless communication apparatus (column 1, lines 16-19), and wireless communication means for wirelessly communicating with a party on the other end (see for example, column 3, lines 18-24), and call holding instruction means for instructing to hold a call upon receiving a call (see for example, column 1, lines 38-61; column 3, lines 9-17; Abstract, lines 8-12), and control means for controlling said music information processing means when holding a call while speaking to the party on the other end according to instructions from said call holding instruction means by virtue of directing said wireless communication means so as to play back music information stored in said external memory unit and controlling said wireless communication means to transmit the music information as a call holding tone to said terminal thereon (see for example, column 1, lines 38-61; column 2, lines

Art Unit: 2684

64-67; column 3, lines 1-17, and lines 18-24).

However, Cronin does not disclose a memory unit connection means for connecting to an external memory unit, and music information processing means for reading out and playing back music data stored in said external memory unit being connected via the memory unit connection means.

Segal discloses memory unit connection means for connecting to an external memory unit (see for example, column 19, lines 23-33), and music information processing means for reading out and playing back music data stored in said external memory unit being connected via the memory unit connection means (see for example, column 30, lines 15-24).

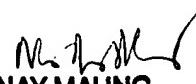

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to combine Segal's wireless phone system with voice recognition with Cronin's portable wireless communication device to provide a portable wireless telecommunications device with recording, storage, and generation of waiting messages that can be done in the portable telecommunications device or in the radio base station, and playing music while caller is put on hold makes the wait period go faster (Cronin, column 3, lines 18-24).

Conclusion

1. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure
2. Satyamurti et. al. Method and apparatus for intelligible fast forward and reverse playback of time-scale compressed voice messages.
